

The Prophecy of Ezekiel

37:1-14

The read- ing of the proph- e- cy of E- ze- ki- el.

The hand of the Lord was up- on me,

and car- ried me out in the Spir- it of the Lord,

and set me down in the midst of the val- ley

which was full of bones, and caused me to pass by them round a- bout;

and be- hold, there were ver- y man- y in the o- pen val- ley;

and lo, they were ver- y dry. And he said un- to me,

'Son of man, can these bones live?' And I an- swered,

'O Lord God, thou know- est'. A- gain he said un- to me,

'Proph- e- sy up- on these bones, and say un- to them, "O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord. Thus saith the Lord God un- to these bones;

'Be- hold, I will cause breath to en- ter in- to you, and ye shall live.

And I will lay sin- ews up- on you, and will bring up flesh up- on you, and cov- er you with skin, and put breath in you,

and ye shall live; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.""

So I proph- e- sied as I was com- mand- ed:

and as I proph- e- sied, there was a noise,

and be- hold a shak- ing, and the bones came to- geth- er, bone to his bone.

And when I be- held, lo, the sin- ews and the flesh came up up- on them, and the skin cov- ered them a- bove: but there was no breath in them.

Then said he un- to me, 'Proph- e- sy un- to the wind, proph- e- sy, son of man, and say to the wind, "Thus saith the Lord God;

'Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe up- on these slain,
